

Hello,

Today I bring you a new and exciting way to manage your projects. Goblin Time Manager is a web application with one goal in mind, to give you exactly what you need with nothing extra. Managing time is hard enough without the hassle of being bombarded by extra unnecessary functions.

Goblin Time Manager (GTM) offers the user a clean interface, easy sign up and rich but basic features. These features include: creating new projects, adding dates and task to the project, setting the status of the project and color coded icons to give visual clues to a projects current status. With drag and drop functionality it is easy to rearrange projects as due dates and assignments change. Simple mouse clicks allows you to add, delete or modify projects or tasks.

For new users signing up is a breeze, simply enter your email address, desired username and password then click submit. Thats it, from there you will be taken straight to the dashboard to begin using GTM.

An unexpected user of this application is online gamers. GTM can assist them in managing guilds, in game events or just maximize the time they have to play by focusing on only what they need to advance their characters. With the applications unparalleled features everyone can find a use for what Goblin Time Manager has to offer.
